

Privacy Policy

Data Protection Act

KD Aviation Consulting takes your privacy seriously. We comply with the Data Protection Acts of 1988 and 2003.

Site Security

In accordance with Irish and European data protection laws, strict security procedures are observed within KD Aviation Consulting to prevent personal data misuse and unauthorized access.

Use of Information

KD Aviation Consulting only holds and uses personal information to provide the best service to our clients and potential clients. The information collected will only be available to KD Aviation Consulting and will not be disclosed to any third party without prior consent of the members concerned.

Duration of Information Storage

Provided information will be retained by KD Aviation Consulting for the duration of an individual usage of the KD Aviation Consulting.

Questions and Answers

We have done our-best to answer common questions in this privacy policy and through the website. If you still have any questions, please contact us at enquiries@kdaviationconsulting.com

Competent authorities

We may share and disclose your personal details and information to a government or investigative authority if required by law (or any regulation having the force of law), legal process, criminal investigation, court order or subpoena. We may also disclose your personal data if it is strictly necessary for the prevention, detection and prosecution of criminal acts.

Cookies

Cookies on a website are small text files, transferred to your computer's hard disk through the web browser. KD Aviation Consulting may use cookies to be able to improve our services to you and to provide some of the features that you could find useful. Cookies enable us to better understand what products and services are most interesting to you. A cookie may contain your contact information and other information to enable us to identify your computer when you visit different sections on our site to help you to find information easier. Most web browsers will accept cookies automatically, but you can set your browser to not accept cookies. All cookies we use do not affect any information that is stored on your computer.

More information about cookies and how prevent your computer from installing cookies follow this link:
<http://www.allaboutcookies.org>

Changes to this statement

We are at all times entitled to change the way we collect, transmit and process the personal information and such other information as we may deem necessary. This statement may therefore be amended from time to time in order to reflect the latest changes.

Feedback

We are always interested in your opinions, suggestions and points of view, so should you have something to say, please, email enquiries@kdaviationconsulting.com